

INHALTSVERZEICHNIS

CHAPTER I: INTRODUCTION AND RECOMMENDATIONS

1. Introduction – The Economic Environment	11
1.1. Introductory Remarks	11
1.2. Economic Growth and Labour Market Development.....	12
1.3. High Dynamism of the Austrian Labour Market	13
1.4. Shadow Economy	14
1.5. Deregulation and Privatization.....	14
1.6. Globalization.....	15
1.7. Opening of the Eastern Countries	15
1.8. EU-Membership.....	16
1.9. European Economic and Monetary Union.....	17
1.10. Monetary Policy.....	17
1.11. Income Policy	18
1.12. Taxes and Fiscal Charges on Labour	18
2. Recommendations	19
2.1. Skills	19
2.1.1. Skills as a Locational Factor.....	19
2.1.2. Further Vocational Training	19
2.1.3. Better Coordination of Schooling and Further Training.....	21
2.1.4. Financing of Further Vocational Training.....	21
2.1.5. Proof of Further Vocational Training.....	22
2.1.6. Direct Utilization and Transferability of Further Training	22
2.1.7. Vocational Counseling	23
2.1.8. Apprenticeship Training.....	23
2.2. Working Time and Employment.....	24
2.2.1. Decoupling of Production Time and Working Time.....	25
2.2.2. Adjustment of Working Hours to Production Fluctuations	25
2.2.3. Reduction of Working Time.....	25
2.2.4. Models of Distributing Labour to Create More Employment	26
2.2.5. Working Time and Employment in Industry and Trade.....	28
2.2.6. Employment Effects through Liberalization of Shop Hours	28
2.2.7. Working Time Models to Prolong Employment in Seasonal Branches.....	29
2.3. New Fields of Employment	29
2.3.1. Employment Potentials in Business-Related Services.....	30
2.3.2. Employment Effects of New Communication Technologies	30
2.3.3. Employment Potentials in Personal Services.....	31
2.4. Active Labour Market Policy.....	33